At Shockwave Motors, we make electric cars cool by providing a high performance electric roadster that's economical, pollution free, and just plain fun to drive!

Our three-passenger roadster is designed with the daily commuter in mind and has a range of 80 to 100 miles and then plugs into any standard 120-volt outlet for about 8 or 9 hours for a complete recharge. Then the commuter is ready to drive another 80 to 100 miles home. This gives the roadster an effective range of up to 200 miles per day. The top speed is about 75 MPH. No other electric vehicle, with our level of performance, can get a complete recharge in about 9 hours from a standard wall outlet. This is what sets us apart. We don't need any new infrastructure or special charging stations – just a simple 120-volt outlet!

Shockwave Motors, Inc. is a values-based, technology driven, certified electric vehicle (motorcycle) manufacturer. The electric roadsters manufactured by Shockwave Motors are an innovative combination of the best of today's technology and sleek, aerodynamic styling.
